THE GOLD-DIGGER

presents

The Goldstone

Dedication

For many years of faithful service to Goldston High School as a member of the local Board of Education, we the Senior Class of '49 dedicate this issue of the Gold-Stone to Mr. E. M. Harris, Sr.

We shall always appreciate your kind and benevolent consideration of our school, and we herewith offer our respect and affection.

THE GOLD-DIGGER

BY
J.C. BURKE JR.

Meet the Gold-digger—a personality who is becoming widely known. Though he has never been seen, he has been with students and teachers ever since the day they entered Golston School. He is felt in every act of study and play and is a red-blood to the core. No idle dreamer, this little guy really gets around! He does his many jobs quietly and efficiently. He helped lay the cornerstone of the school building, the lunchroom, and just this year, a $30,000 gymnasium. He has attended all the classes and has ridden all the bus routes. He yelled his lungs out at every basketball game and ran on the court clad in new uniforms and jackets. He assisted with every issue of the “Hi-Lites”, helped remodel the library, sold ads for the “Gold-Stone” and participated in all student activities.

And, once again, who is this guy, the Gold-Digger? He has been at once principal, teacher, student, and janitor of a small, but progressive high school. He is the living spirit of Goldston High School that has enabled it to serve this community for many years.

CLASS SONG

MEMORIES

September to June, a gay little tune,
 The song of the Seniors is ringing.
 It fills all the air, is heard everywhere;
 A message from glad hearts it is bringing.

Chorus

We love Goldston School; each lesson and rule
 We shall remember forever.
 Though many a year will fast disappear,
 The memories of school days fade never.

We'll go far away some proud, happy day,
 But deep in our hearts still remaining
 Will be friendship true for school days and you,
 Bright vision in our hearts never waning.

CLASS HISTORY

It is hard to give the history of a class when so much still lies ahead of us. So far, we haven't had much time to do things. We hope our history twenty-five years from now will be more worthy of your notice.

We'll begin at the beginning where all good stories should start. Most of us entered first grade a wee bit scared, but found it such a happy place that all our terrors disappeared. Then, from grade to grade we passed along, learning not only things from books but how to work and play together, to respect the rights of others, and to be good citizens in our school world.

Then one exciting day, we entered high school with an enrollment of twenty-three. We began the year by electing to serve as our class officers Johnie Jean Dowdy, president; Andrew Barber, vice-president; Elma Wilkie, secretary-treasurer. Under the direction of Mrs. Francis Layland, things seemed to have gone very well for us.

Then came our second year with Mr. Cullipher as our homeroom teacher. When we were finally settled, we found that we were lacking four of our classmates. We became very active in our Sophomore year. Some joined the basketball teams; others played baseball and softball; still others were members of the glee club, the Student Council, and the cheering team.

Our Junior year seemed to us a very trying one; but just before the Christmas holiday; we received a card bearing the information that our class rings were in the depot. We were an excited crowd of kids. Then came the Junior-Senior banquet, which we had to struggle over, however, it seemed to us the last word in entertaining. Seven of us received letters for athletic activities. Our class leaders that year were Thelma Phillips, president; Helen Hart,, vice-president; Eunice Soots, secretary and treasurer; Wilma Rosser, room representative.

Our Senior year in Goldston High is 1949. Two members of the class married during the summer, but returned to finish their education.

This year we elected Savannah Callicutt, president; John Thomas, vice-president; Andrew Barber, secretary; Eunice Soots, treasurer. We chose as our flower the red rose and blue and white for our colors. Our motto is—"Sail on, the shore is just ahead."

Many exciting adventures lay before us during our Senior year. For many months, visions of the great Chowan River passed through our minds, and we could readily picture our Junior-Senior banquet. But above all this, we looked forward to our commencement for this was the time when we would leave Goldston School with much regret.

We not only tried to do our work well, but we did other things decidedly worth while. We approached our last exams with dignity and confidence, and we passed 'em.

So having acquired a better education, we haven't done so poorly, up to now.

Last Will and Testament

We, the class of 1949, in the town of Goldston, County of Chatham, and in the state of North Carolina, being ready to embark from this port into unknown seas, do hereby make this, our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

Item 1. To Mr. Cullipher, our principal, we leave our gratitude for his understanding and good sportsmanship.

Item 2. To the teachers, we leave thanks for their patience and a suggestion for making their lives easier: less difficult lessons, not so many tests, and fewer rules to be obeyed.

Item 3. To the incoming Seniors, we leave our spotless reputation our air of importance and a vast store of ideas which we had neither time nor opportunity to use.

Item 4. To the remaining students, we leave our fame and hope they won't let it die by skidding too far beneath our achievements.

ARTICLE II

Last, we have a few individual bequest to make.

Item 1. To Charles Barber, I, Andrew Barber, do leave my nerve. It never failed me and was a great help in time of trouble.

Item 2. To Floyd Caviness who might have difficulty in passing tests, I, Thelma Phillips, do leave my cramming ability.

Item 3. To Phillip Gaines, I, John Thomas, do leave some of my height.

Item 4. To Bill Sipe, I, Howard McMillan, do leave my place in the Beta Club.

Item 5. To Gilbert Oldham, I, Norman Oldham, do leave my bus.

Item 6. To Angelette Oldham, I, Helen Hart, do leave my ability to play basketball.

Item 7. To Billy Joe Harris, I, Norman Dowdy, do leave my quietness.

Item 8. To Franklin Wilkins, I, Savannah Callicutt, do leave my ability to make excellent grades.

Item 9. To Mack Phillips, I, J. C. Burke, do leave my artistic ability.

Item 10. To Louise Hillard, I, Johnie Jean Stout, do leave some of my slimness.

Item 11. To Frona Wilkie, I, Wilma Rosser, do leave some of my size.

Item 12. To Sally Herron, I, Mary Alice Moses, do leave my blond hair.

Item 13. To Edwin Elkins, I, Margaret Welch, do bequeath all the ambition I possessed with the hope that he will make good use of it by working hard at everything.

Item 14. To Anne Marie Moses, I, Eunice Soots, do leave my position as editor of Goldston Hi-Lites.

Item 15. To William Fields, I, Walter Jordan, do leave my agreeable disposition.

Finally, we name as the sole executor of this will Mrs. E. W. Byerly in whom we have every confidence.

CLASS POEM

MEMORIES

Dear Senior Class of Forty-Nine
We know the time is finally here
To say good-bye to Goldston High
And to our friends we love so dear.

With gratitude we turn to you
Who brought us thus far on our way
And helped to guide our first voyage
Safely into this port today.

To you who gave us friendly aid
Though we were young and sore afraid
Always in our hearts there will be,
A sense of love and loyalty.

The sea of life may not be easy,
And we may find many doubts and fear.
But with faith in the Hand Divine,
We can face our tasks through the years.

And as we sail this sea of life
To face our problems day by day,
Memories will return to our school
And those who charted us our way.

Class Poet
Eunice Mae Soots

PROPHECY

As I sit on my yacht sailing along the sea of memories in the year 1974, I gaze into the briny waters and see my classmates of 1949. At first the images are vague, but gradually they begin to take shape.

Johnie Jean Stout, who was married before school was out, is happily settled in Goldston with several little "shorties."

In the very heart of Goldston, I see Howard McMillan. He is now the dignified owner of the Goldston Subway Lines, powered by atomic energy.

I see Polly Moses, helpless and shy. She looks like a mariner adrift and surrounded by hungry sharks. As I look again, she is calm, composed, self-assured, if not bossy. She is now an efficiency expert in Goldston High School. She tells the teachers how to run things, and she's doing a good job, too.

Ah! Now I plainly see the outskirts of Goldston where a middleaged woman is sitting by the fireplace with several small children. As I see the woman's face, I find that it is Margaret Welch.

A sawmill is running in the midst of a great forest, and Norman Oldham is loading a truck with lumber to be taken to his planer-mill in Carbondon.

Wilma Rosser, hairdresser in a Sanford beauty shop, is giving one of her fifteen minute permanents. She now owns a chain of beauty parlors from Maine to Florida.

John Thomas is now proprietor of one of Sanford's leading helicopter stores. He was always up in the air anyway, so he decided to make it his life work.

Thelma Phillips, who always wanted to be up in the air too, is an airline hostess.

It was very painful when I looked at Helen Hart. Pretty? Yes! Plump? Oh! No! Not plump, just plain fat! She has been eating like a starving python for 25 years. It's yards around her. Poor thing! She's the victim of circumference.

Another image forms and I see Andrew Barber, who is now making wise-cracks on the Three-Guesses program. He's the director of one of those quiz programs on the radio. He makes up his own questions and he certainly has people guessing. Some of his questions he can't answer himself.

I can see into a spacious office where Eunice Mae Soots is typing off insurance reports for her brother who is now President of Atlantic Life Insurance Company.

In a great laboratory, a scientist is at work over what seems to be some sort of atomic energy project. He is the classmate who was voted most likely to succeed, Norman Dowdy.

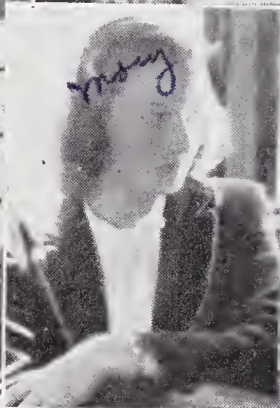

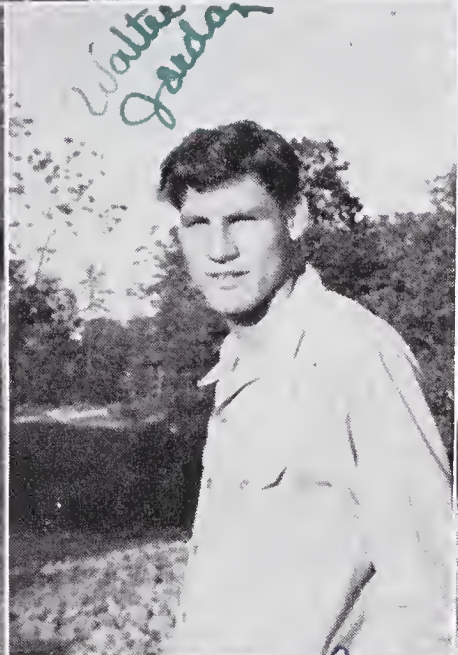

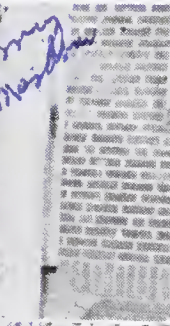

Savannah Callicutt is writing movie serials—the kind in which the heroine is left dangling from an eleventh story window by her eyelids, and streaming out to sea like a pennant when the wind blows.

Walter Jordan is now a successful scientific farmer near Raleigh, North Carolina. He recently won national honors for perfecting a special breed of yellow hybrid corn that will grow the year round in any part of the world.

Oh! No! I can see myself with nothing to do but sit back and paint pretty girls' pictures. Since I couldn't get one for myself, I had to learn to paint their pictures so I could spend my time looking at them.

J. C. Burke, Jr., Prophet.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is an essential part of our school life. It is an organization that governs all the other clubs and takes part in many activities. It has done much for the school and has helped to make it one of the best schools in the county.

This club has sponsored cleaning campaigns to keep the school looking attractive and it has put on plays to raise money for things that are necessary for the school.

All the members of this club work in unison for the benefit of the school and outstanding progress has been made.

Second Row: Howard McMillan, Charles Barber, John Thomas, Andrew Barber, Clyde Watson, Eunice Soots, Johnnie Jean Stout, Helen Hart.

BETA CLUB

During the last few years the Beta Club has played an important role in Goldston School. Beta students have been outstanding in many activities.

The qualifications for membership are: good mentality and character, creditable achievement, and commendable attitude.

The purpose of this organization is to promote the ideals of honesty, service and leadership among the high-school students, to reward meritorious achievement, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high-school graduation.

There are numerous activities in which the Beta students can enter and help the school. Among these are to improve the general school program, to create better school environment and better school spirit, to keep classrooms and school premises clean and attractive, to raise funds for improving school equipment, to improve scholarship, to raise standards of personal conduct, and to assist in various school projects.

The motto of the Beta Club is, "Ducamus aliis serviendo"—Let us lead by serving others.

The Beta Club is surely a goal to be striven for by every student in high-school, for it is one of the greatest honors one can achieve.

BUS DRIVERS

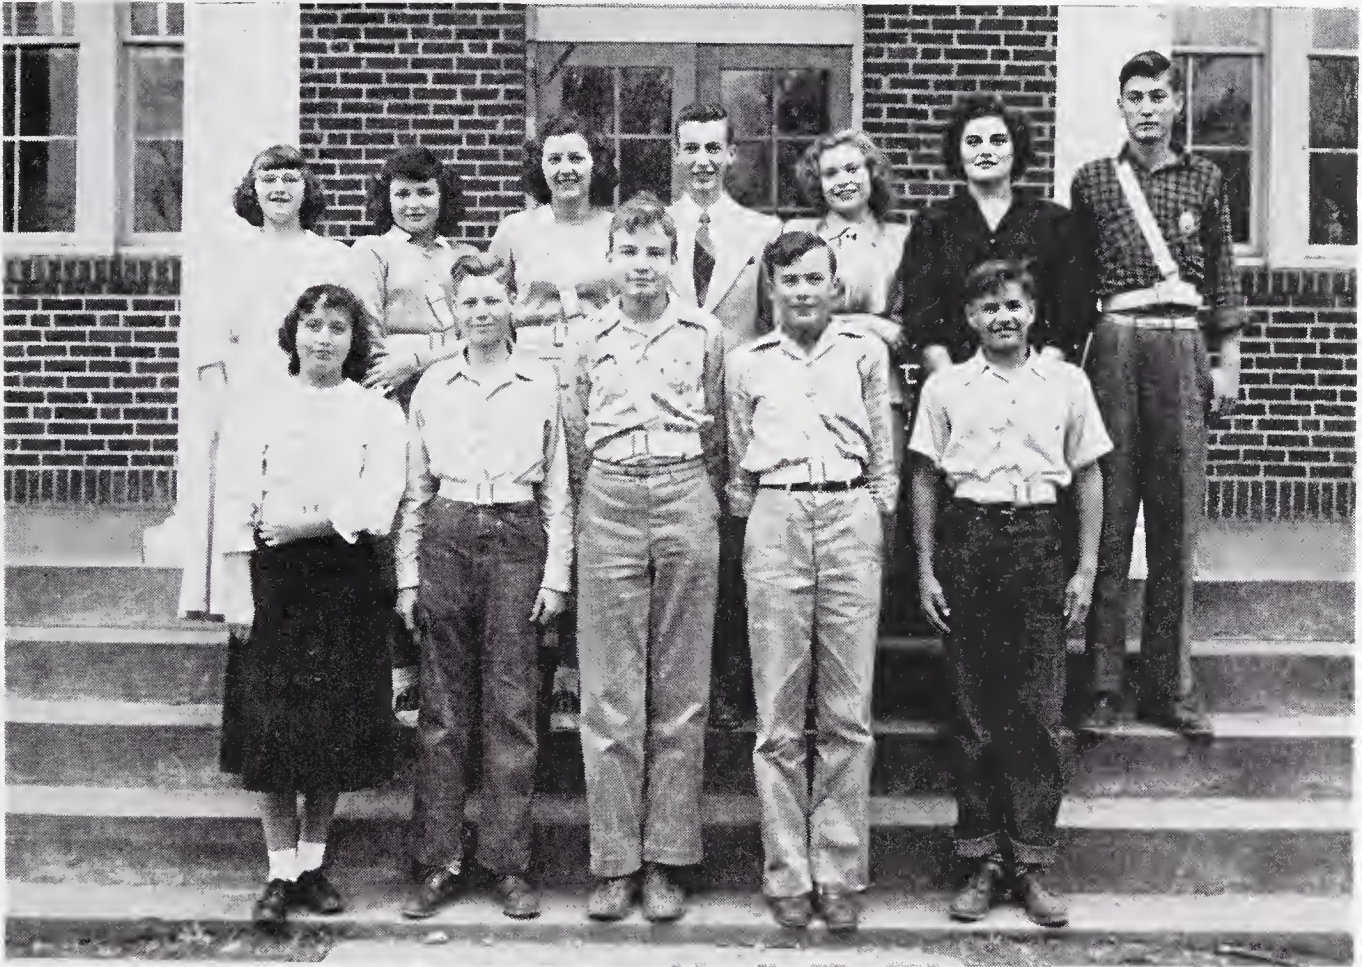

Fall rains, winter snows, icy roads, slushy, red mud, overflowing creeks, flat tires and empty gas tanks play a major role in the life of a school bus driver.

The five at Goldston High—Billy Joe Harris, Norman Oldham, Helen Hart, Andrew Barber and Elbert Pilkington—know what to expect from the elements during the intervening nine months. It's no fun leaving home at 6:55 on cold December mornings in a chilly bus to cope with "Country roads and to be responsible for the lives of 50 to 65 children twice a day. The physical and mental strain of such a task is no small matter.

Helen Hart provided a unique incident in school history when she became Goldston's first girl bus driver. Setting a record for her successors, she made four trips daily without any serious mishap.

So, it's hats off to you, Bus-drivers! Few people realize what an essential part you play in a school where over three-fourths of the pupils depend on a school bus for an education.

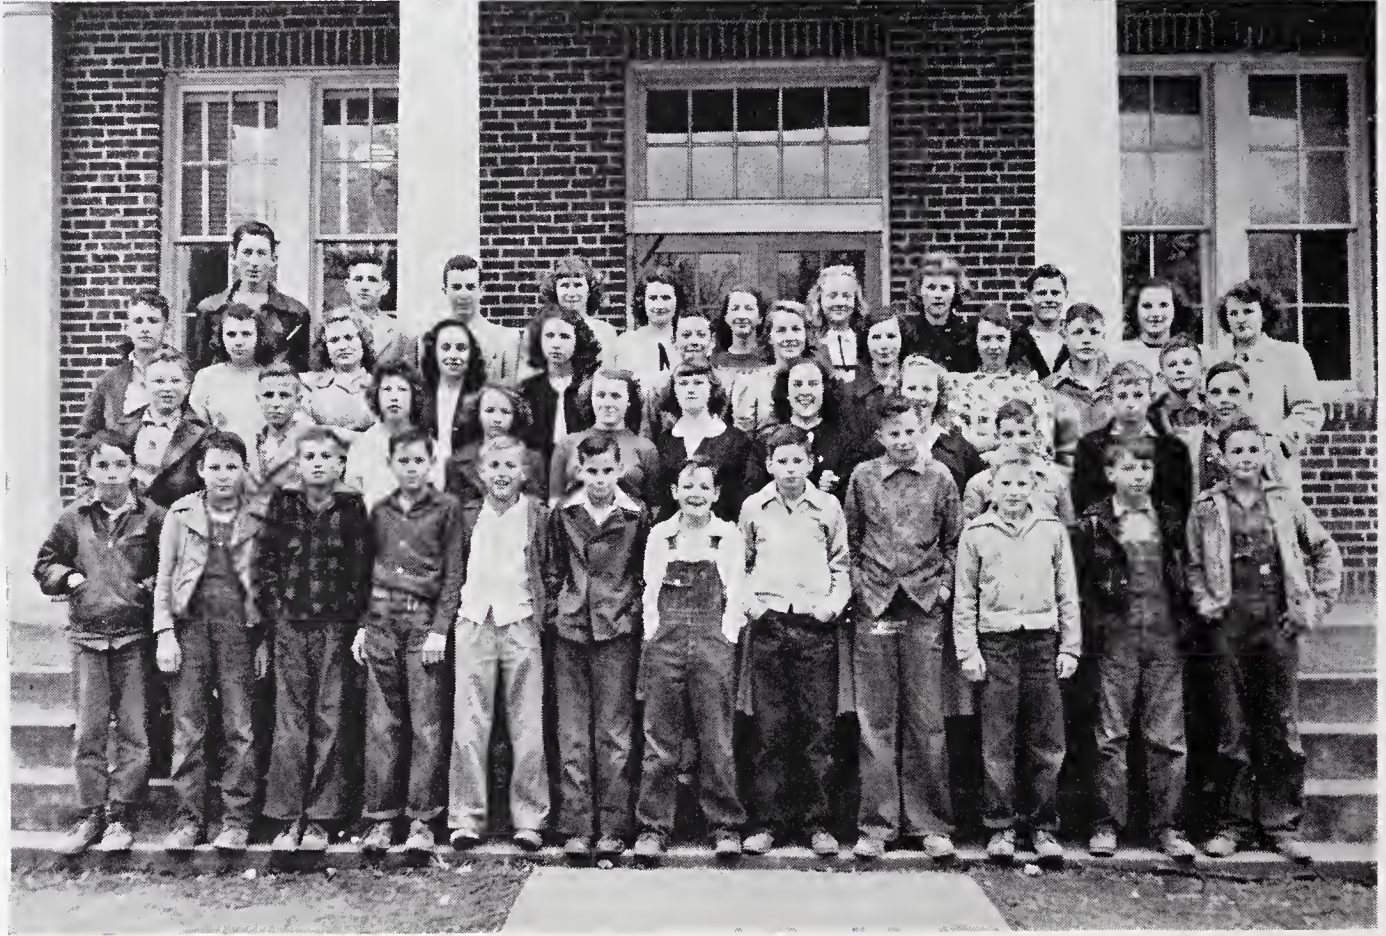

SAFETY PATROL

First Row: Frona Wilkie, C. B. Dunlap, Bill Thomas, Gilbert Oldham, Donald Barber. Second Row: Lois Mashburn, Jean Tally, Jean Herron (Lieutenant), J. C. Burke (Captain), Mary Alice Moses, Wilma Rosser (Lieutenant), Mack Phillips.

This group had many responsible duties. It kept pupils in line while buses were loading, assisted pupils to find seats on the buses and helped maintain order when the buses were in motion. The town members cautioned pupils to walk on the right side of the road. This year each member was given a badge, a cap and a belt.

4-H CLUB

Officers: President, Franklin Wilkins; Vice-President, Marilyn Wilkie; Secretary, Ruth Griffin; Program Chairman, Clyde Watson, Sara Jane Fields, Song leader, Betty Lou Hart.

First Row: Alfred Foushee, Bill Talley, Joe Phillips, Jimmy Smith, Roland Wilson, Jimmy Jordan, Wayne Oldham, Gilbert Ruth, Warren Baldwin, Billy Hart, Reagy Oldham, Eugene Oldham. Second Row: Edward Daniels, Ted Phillips, Inez Fields, Kathallen Hutchins, Bobby Jean Phillips, Lois Mashburn, Sara Jane Fields, Josephine Gaines, J. T. Griffin, Clarence Moody, F. D. Elkins. Third Row: Roy Beal, Marlin Wilkie, Polly Moses, Sally Faye Campbell, Peggy Smith, Victor Oldham, Shirley Mashburn, Doris Burke, Shirley Brafford, Bobby Jordan, Clyde Burns. Fourth Row: Billy Sipe, Clyde Watson, J. C. Burke, Irene Seagroves, Betty Lou Hart, Cattie Lee Welch, Georgia Harvell, Ola Hart, Gene Causy, Ruth Griffin.

The 4-H Club is one of the most worthy organization in school. Since its main purpose is to train school boys and girls in Farm—and—Home life, it is considered one of the most important clubs in the state. Because of its many projects, a great majority of boys and girls have become interested in this club. These boys and girls have high ideals, high standards and, above all, they serve.

LUNCH ROOM

First Row: Mrs. G. P. Cullipher, supervisor, Hazel Hart, Marie Powers, Martha Garner, Lucy Fields, Eloise Gaines.
Second Row: Eliza Palmer, Lucille Murchison, Evelyn Carroll.

LUNCHROOM STAFF

This staff serves a substantial meal for students and teachers. According to the State Board of Health, it is a grade A cafeteria.

GYMNASIUM

The new gymnasium is now an important spot in this community. Having a large playing floor with plenty of seating capacity, good lighting, adequate locker rooms, and a $5,000 heating plant, it has provided recreation and plenty of excitement for both the young and old during this school year. Besides the regular scheduled games for the school teams and Home teams, the local Lions Club sponsored the first basketball tournament to be held here. This event drew 22 teams to Goldston from 9 counties.

The annual Chatham County High School Tourney was held here the first week of March.

Because this community wanted a gymnasium, practically everyone pitched in to get this structure built.

CHEERLEADERS

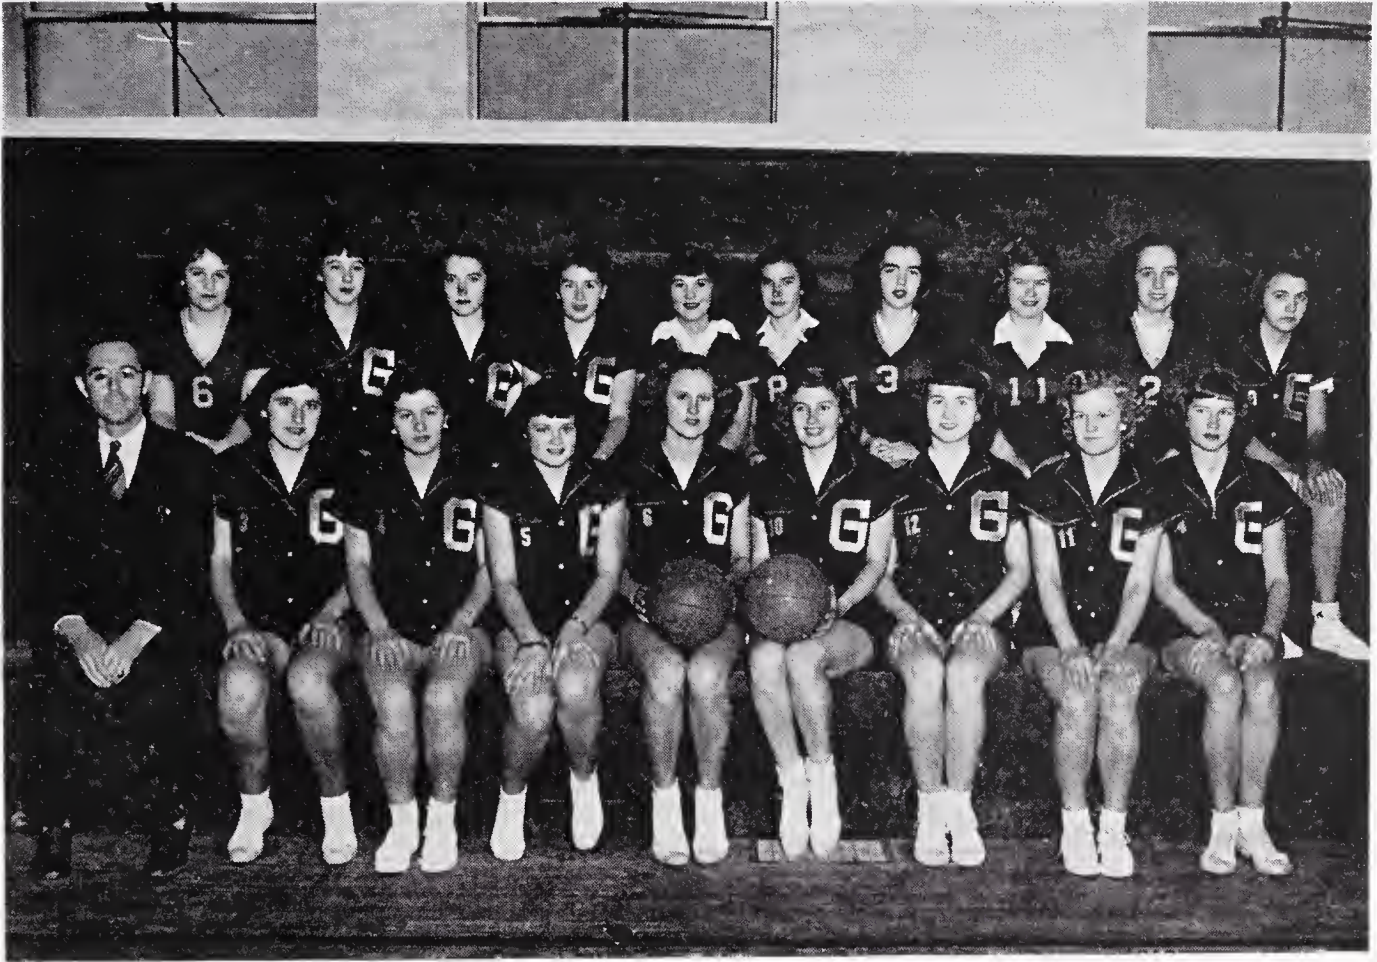

If any students possessed true school spirit this year, they were these eight cheerleaders—Isabelle Campbell, Sara Jane Fields, Thelma Phillips, Chief; Lois Mashburn, Mary Ruth Fields, Angelette Oldham, Josephine Gaines, and Lillie Mae Hutchins.

Dashing out on the court during every “time out” in a basketball game, their bright, happy smiles never waned until the final whistle, for their knowledge of school cheers seemed limitless.

The cheerleaders in full gold skirts and maroon sweaters added a gay touch of color to our athletic contests. Their untiring efforts, their unselfishness in devoting their time to hours of hard practice, their faithful appearance at every game undoubtedly influenced the outcome of many games in which Goldston emerged victorious.

The “Rah! Rah! Gold-diggers! Rah!” of our present cheering squad will echo through our school annals in future years and be an incentive to those who will don the cheerleaders’ maroon and gold during the coming seasons.

The Goldston Girls' Basketball team had a good season this year, although the team consisted of practically all new players. They won 18 games out of 23 and entered two tournaments.

In the Pittsboro tournament, Katie Mae Wilson was selected as the most outstanding player. Other Goldston players to receive favorable recognition were forwards Jean Tally and Jean Herron and guard Helen Hart.

Playing for over a thousand spectators each night, the girls really showed their ability to play basketball during the Chatham County tournament at Goldston. Katie Mae Wilson led the Goldston Girls into the finals against the Pittsboro team with a scoring splurge in which she, still a freshman, racked up a 28 point total. The Goldston girls won going away over Pittsboro 41-29.

The boys' basketball team had an active season. The gallant team has upheld good sportsmanship throughout the season, even in the face of overwhelming odds. Every team was met with confidence and the boys never gave up until the final whistle.

The boys lost their first game in the Chatham County tournament at Goldston. Bennet won over them to end our year.

Earl Cheek was high scorer this year with Billy Joe Harris holding second place.
